World's longest sea bridge, in China

TRAVEL TRENDS, CHINA

Chinese officials are set to unveil the world's longest sea bridge this week after nine years of construction work, advancing the country's interest in connecting three major regions. The Hong Kong-Zhuhai-Macau Bridge will bring the Chinese mainland economic hub of the West Bank of the Pearl River Delta within a three-hour drive of Hong Kong. Beijing's visit to the region also reinforces Hong Kong's role in the cross-border economy approach that China is developing, said Dr. Winzer King, a specialist in Chinese international political economy in the Asia-Pacific region. "There's a clear symbolic value of being the world's longest bridge representing construction and reconstruction," said Dr. Winzer King, a specialist in Chinese international political economy in the Asia-Pacific region. "There's a clear symbolic value of being the world's longest bridge representing construction and reconstruction,"

ISLAMABAD, Nov 23: The explosion apparently took place near the intersection of Orakzai tribal district's Kalaya Bazar, Dera Ismail Khan. "The domestic council had been advised to investigate the security situation,"
